

Chapter 1060 Tax Inspection

The tax bureau would inspect the company's financial statement?

But Trevor's company was still new. Why did they have to do an inspection?

Trevor didn't need to think about it. He already knew that Caitlin must be making trouble for him behind his back.

Since the establishment of Sky Film and Television Company, no business revenue was recorded, and there was no tax to inspect at all. All the information was clearly written when the company was registered.

Malakai heard Trevor's conversation on the phone, and he looked a little embarrassed.

He didn't mean to eavesdrop, but the voice of the female employee was so excited that he could hear it clearly.

Just now, he sincerely thanked Trevor for helping him with his illness. He didn't expect that the next second, the staff of the tax bureau would mess around with the tax problem of Trevor's company. This made him feel embarrassed.

"Doctor, I'll come with you. I want to know the situation first," Malakai offered.

Of course, Trevor wouldn't refuse. He nodded and said, "Okay, let's go together."

Then the two of them drove to Sky Film and Television Company together.

Before they got out of the car, Malakai whispered to Trevor, "You go in first and deal with it. I'll hide and observe. I want to see how my subordinates do things."

"Okay," Trevor readily agreed.

At this moment, the employees of Sky Film and Television Company gathered at the entrance. When they saw Trevor striding towards them, they were relieved.

When the company went through a crisis last time, the scene when Trevor taught Alec a lesson was still vivid in their minds.

Two days ago, Trevor also taught that playboy Colson a lesson.

In the eyes of his employees, Trevor was an amazing boss.

The inspectors of the tax bureau, on the other hand, had different expressions on their faces.

The one who took the lead held up his round glasses, sneered, and said arrogantly, "Hey, you! Are you the boss here? You came just in time. We suspect that something is wrong with the source of your funds. Besides, this land has become your asset in the form of a grant from another person. It is very likely to be a means of tax evasion. You have to go with us. Do you want me to take you away? Or you will come with me voluntarily?"

Trevor didn't say anything. He just sneered.

He glanced at the man's name badge and saw his name, Lochlan Vargas.

With a smug look, Lochlan lifted the brim of his hat and continued with his arms akimbo, "To prevent you from stealthily transferring the assets, the company has to be sealed up indefinitely. It will only be unsealed again after you are proven innocent."

While listening to him, Trevor raised his eyebrows.

It seemed that Lochlan didn't even bother to disguise himself. He wanted to freeze the company without evidence.

"Are you calling yourself a law enforcer? Do you even care about the law?" Trevor scolded Lochlan coldly.

Lochlan was stunned for a moment. He was a tax inspector, and he didn't expect that Trevor would dare to speak to him in such a voice.

In the past, when he went to inspect any company, even the CEO was polite to him.

At the thought of this, Lochlan flew into a rage. "How dare you talk to me like that! You are just a humble boss of a shabby company. Believe it or not, I can make you go bankrupt with only my words. And how dare you mention the law! Are you more knowledgeable of the law than me?"

Trevor sneered, "Of course, it's fine with me to cooperate with your inspection. But if you arrest me and freeze my company without any evidence, it's obviously a violation of the law. Where are your inspection and arrest warrants from the tax bureau? If you have, show me. I want to see who signed them for you."

Lochlan's expression suddenly became unnatural. He came to inspect this time because of Caitlin's order. This had no approval from his superior in the tax bureau.

He had no choice but to pretend to be angry to cover the truth. He shouted, "What nonsense are you talking about? I'm standing here, and it's the rule and the law. I can do whatever I want here. Who do you think you are to talk about the law with me? And you really have the nerve to talk to me like that? Do you have the guts to fight against the entire state agency? I am an inspector from the tax bureau. Be careful. I can arrest everyone in your company."
