

Chapter 135

The next morning, Allison woke up early and got ready for school. Last night, she returned home directly. The cars did not stop in front of any restaurants since everyone had decided to return first and then have a late dinner. But she did not go back to the pack house to have dinner with others.

When she reached her home, she caught a glimpse of her parents' upset mood. Despite the fact that she, too, was distressed by it, she chose not to discuss it with them.

Allison wore blue a crop top and black jeans for her outfit today. She put on her sneakers and dashed out of the room as quickly as she could.

She glanced at the table when she went downstairs. Her parents were quietly consuming their breakfast at the time. When they saw her, Her mother immediately summoned her and said,

"Allison, come have breakfast with us."

"No, mom. Thanks." After replying, she headed to the door.

"Stop being so stubborn. It has been quite some time since you last ate a meal with us. Why are you doing this?" Her father stood up and turned around to ask her.

She remembered how adorable the bond she had with her father was. But the passage of time altered everything.

"I am getting late, Dad." She said and opened the door.

"You are still adamant about the man who brought your father's reputation into disrepute in front of other people?" He asked with a defeated tone.

Allison did not make any attempt to turn around. After clearing her throat, she said,

"You gave me options to choose from. I did. Now I have nothing to do with that man. It is entirely up to you to decide how you will deal with him and how you will respond to the behavior he displays toward you. I request you not to conclude that any of my acts are in any way connected to him." Saying that, Allison left the house.

After she had arrived at her school, she headed straight to the first lesson that was on her schedule.

When it was break time, she and her new friends, Ciara and Diva, came across her.

The three of them headed to the cafeteria together. Allison could see through the windows that there was a crowd of people congregating near the entrance.

"What's the deal with all these people?" She inquired with her friends.

"Your best friend is coming to visit her old school today. What, you didn't know that?" Ciara asked.

Allison was aware that they would stop by for a visit at some point, but she had no idea that it would be today.

"So everyone is gathered there for her?" She questioned herself and was surprised that people really cared so much about Teresa.

"No, not because of her. Ryan has returned to the pack, too. So they want to see him once again, especially girls." Diva replied with a lower tone. She thought it would be awkward to talk about Ryan in front of Allison.

Allison rolled her eyes as she recalled the days when Ryan was known throughout their school as the school's most famous playboy.

Suddenly, her phone began to ring. She saw that it was Ethan.

"Hello?"

"Come outside. I am on the way to your school." Ethan said and cut the call.

Allison stared at her phone while thinking about what could be the reason for his sudden visit.

She realized that he was playing the role of Alpha in order to go around the pack and check on them just like yesterday.

'So I have to be with them again?' She thought and felt irritated.

"Ethan is outside. I am going to him." She said to her friends.

They nodded their heads. Ciara said that they also wanted to go outside. So Allison walked with them towards the entrance area.

She noticed that the crowd was beginning to cheer. She thought that Ryan had already arrived at the school, which was the reason why the students, particularly the girls, were screaming.

Students in the center of the gathering started to split up as she moved closer to the crowd in order to make space for her to get closer to the visitors.

"I can't wait to see her reaction. Her ex-boyfriend is here." A girl said to others, which reached Allison's ears.

She guessed that no one had known about Ryan's identity as the head Alpha yet. She believed that Ryan's visit to school would not create problems for her daily life.

"Look at him! How much more attractive he has gotten! He turned into a manly and handsome figure. Look at his clothes; he came here in formal clothes. I really can't believe what I'm seeing. I am witnessing the appearance of a Greek god! But why are there so many guards accompanying him?"

Allison kept listening to the girls while heading outside.

"Who is the beautiful young woman?"

"What gives her the right to grab Ryan's arm in that manner?"

"Is she dating him?"

"Oh, no way. I have no doubt that she is one of his flings. Have you forgotten his mindset? Girls can only be with him for a night."

Allison was astounded by the other girls' gossip. Due to the manner in which they had been discussing Elora, she knew that they would be shocked when she learned of her being the soon-to-be Luna of the Black Moon pack.

She came out of the crowd and took in the sights of the visitors. Teresa and Elora were talking about something. Ryan and his officials were standing beside them. She noticed that Gamma Colin had also come today. Because yesterday he did not join them to visit the art gallery. He was kind of a cold man compared to other officials. Because she knew the other three but was unfamiliar with him.

Ethan's car stopped beside the other cars. Wade and Ethan came out of the car.

Students bowed to Ethan while standing.

"Alpha"

The boys greeted him while standing where they were.

Ethan showed his appreciation for them by nodding his head and extending his hand to Allison.

Allison reached out and grasped his hand before standing next to him since she was the future Luna. She would have to show formality in front of others.

"Today I come here to introduce someone special to you all." Ethan said to others.

Students paid careful attention to him as he spoke. Girls were unable to pull their eyes away from Ryan, while boys felt a little uneasy from Ryan and his officials' scents. They were feeling a little submissive toward Ryan, which really shocked them.

"Meet the head Alpha of the Black Moon Pack, Alpha Ryan. Though he was one of the students of this school like you before, today he came here to visit like an Alpha. So treat him and don't disappoint any of his people."

Allison fixed her gaze on Ethan. The manner in which he presented Ryan, which was filled with so much respect, is enough to win anyone's heart.

She cast a quick glance in Ryan's direction and assumed that he would converse in a formal manner with the other people given that he had been doing so for the last two days.

But her assumption turned out to be wrong when he spoke out.

"Hello, guys. Missed me?"

The girls screamed their throats out. "YES."

Ryan smirked and nodded his head.

"Considering how much you've all missed me while I was gone, what do you think about me buying your university?"
