

Chapter 212

Allison looked at him in silence for a few moments. Her eyes were fixed on him the entire time. She was able to see that they were unobstructed.

For the first time, she could see him through his eyes. There was no hostility, and there was no effort to humiliate her in any way. It was clear to her that he loved her.

The way that he looked at her with such devotion and passion was exactly what she had been yearning for.

"R-Ryan, do you still love me?" She asked with a soft tone. She desired to know his response. She wanted to hear him in his right mind.

"You can guess the answer."

Saying that, he smashed his lips on hers. As he kissed her, she had a shiver that spread throughout her entire body. As he pressed his body against hers, he continued to intensify the kiss by placing his hand on the back of her neck and tilting her head to the side.

She wrapped her hands around his neck as she got his answer. She smiled in the kiss as she realized he still loved her. She kissed him back.

His lips sucked at her bottom lip and nibbled it delicately.

"Ummm"

She let out a muffle when he pushed his tongue into her mouth during the kiss. He planted a passionate kiss on her lips. Then he kissed her hungrily.

After they had been kissing for quite a bit of time, he finally pulled away and stared at her.

She blushed as her cheeks reddened.

"I liked your way of chasing. Why did you stop?" He asked her.

"Because I thought you didn't have any feelings left for me." She mumbled under her breath.

He smooched on her lips and replied, "My love is so pristine that even if you had tried to kill me, I would have still loved you in the same way I did before."

Allison experienced a sensation of something heavy leaving her chest. She removed her hands from the back of his neck and cradled his cheeks in her hands.

"Please give me back my old Ryan, who I fell in love with. I am tired of everything. I want to forget the past now. I want to be with the man who motivated me all the time and pushed me to lead a happy life."

His eyes never left her face when she was talking.

"I said I wasn't afraid of you, but I lied. I am frightened of your cold attitude toward me. I hate it. I miss my old Ryan, who always joked around me, who always told me how much he wanted me, who always teased me, and who made me feel like he was the one for me. I want my Ryan back." She whispered.

He heard him clearly since he was so close to her.

"I love you, Allison."

She felt her heart skip a beat. She felt like crying again. But this time, it would be the tears of happiness.

"I am still the old Ryan who used to come to your house in the middle of the night when you were sleeping just to see you, who did not want any other woman but only you, who was willing to go against the whole just to be with you, who was ready to do anything just to protect you, who did not tell you about the mate bond and waited for such a long time just to make you fall in love with him."

She was stunned to hear him. It really made her emotional.

She lightly pushed him from her body and sat up. The unexpected move that she made seemed to take him by surprise.

But the next moment, she hugged him tightly.

He embraced her in his arms. He felt relaxed. The weight in his chest, which was steadily getting heavier with each passing day, was now shifting only very slowly.

He made the decision to put the past behind him and move on.

He knew it was not her fault at all. He realized that he was punishing this woman without any reason. He understood that it would only make her move away from him, which he did not want.

"I love you, Ryan. I love you a lot. I love you more than anyone in this world. I can do anything for you. Just never say that you despise me. I can't handle your hatred toward me. It will only break me from the inside. You are the love of my life. I have dreamed of being with you. Fate gives me another chance. I don't want to lose you."

When he heard her, it put a smile on his face. He then responded by stroking her back.

"I promise I will never hurt you. You are my woman. I will never allow someone to cause you harm, either."

She broke the hug and looked at him.

"You said you liked it when I chased you." She said while cupping his face.

"Yeah, I did like it."

She grinned at him and wrapped her hands around his neck. "Okay."

She leaned into his face and kissed him.

He grabbed her waist and pulled her to his chest. She landed in his lap, which caused her to straddle him. She gasped in the kiss.

He did not let her break the kiss. His hands roamed around her body. It caused her to moan at the kiss.

"Aahh!"

His hands reached up and touched her upper robe. He untied the knot of the violet silk robe. She felt him remove the robe from her body and toss it away.

She pulled away from the kiss and placed her hands to cover her chest.

"R-Ryan"

She looked at him shyly. She gulped when she saw his eyes turn orange. He looked hot with a half-naked attractive body and a handsome face with a pair of dark orange eyes.

He turned their bodies to the bed, and her back pressed against the mattress. She was underneath him.

He grabbed her hands and moved them away from her chest. He leaned in and kissed the upper area of her breasts that were visible to him.

She hissed as he started to suck here and there. She could not help but put her hands on his hair. She pulled him closer to her body as he began to lick her nipples over her camisole.

She moaned in pleasure. He suddenly sat up and looked at her. She was perplexed as to why he had abruptly stopped.

"My inner beast has been hungry for two years."

She bit her lower lip as she could see his eyes wandering around her body.

His eyes turned black. He grinned devilishly at her as he tenderly stroked her thighs with his fingers.

"I want to eat you out, baby."
