

Chapter 1072 Get Out Of Here

Everyone's eyes were on Trevor as he stood before them in foreboding silence.

The actors couldn't help whispering among themselves in shock.

"Is he the owner of Sky Film and Television Company? But he's so young! He looks years younger than me!"

"Are you telling me the investors of the movie entrust everything to him? That's unbelievable! He's too young!"

"Wow! We're the same age, but he already owns a company!"

Trevor raised his chin and regarded Tamara coldly. "I said, get out. Troublemakers aren't welcome here."

Tamara panicked, her hands and feet were trembling.

She attacked Trevor only to impress Travis, not knowing he was someone an actress like her shouldn't cross.

Until that moment, she had no idea Trevor was the movie's executive producer.

Tamara pulled on Travis' sleeve and cried out, "Travis! Please help me! I can't lose this opportunity!"

She could only count on Travis to get her out the mess she made.

"It's okay. I'm here. I won't let them drive you out."

Looking at Tamara's pretty face, now etched with fear, Travis thumped his chest with his hand haughtily.

With a smug smile, Travis turned to Coen. "Don't get so worked up, Mr. Lopez. It's nothing but a petty misunderstanding. I don't care about other people, but I like this girl, so she should stay."

Travis thought he had the final say over this matter instead of the director and the production crew as if he were the lead actor.

Trevor looked at him with a ghost of a smile. "You're Travis, right? Wasn't I clear earlier? I don't like arrogant actors in my production, so you should leave too."

Travis' eyes widened, realizing what Trevor meant. He pointed at himself and burst out laughing sardonically. "You're telling me to leave? Are you out of your mind? You can't do that! I'm the best actor for this role! I'm the most popular talent among the actors here! Only I can make this movie a success! Unless you want this movie to flop, you should not say that to me!"

Ignoring Travis' outburst, Trevor took out his phone and said, "Oh really? You're very famous? Let's see what I have here. You have a girlfriend, but you slept with prostitutes and your fans many times. It also says here you harassed your female co-stars."

Trevor shook his head, looked up, and regarded Travis coldly. "We don't want an actor with all these filthy scandals in our movie."

Gritting his teeth, Travis cast a deadly glare at Trevor, who blatantly revealed his secrets in front of everyone.

"Damn you! You will regret this.

Travis' face was red with fury. As he stormed out, he kept threatening Trevor.

"Just you wait! Damn it! If the public didn't pressure me, do you think I would want to take part in your trash of a movie? Hah! It's your loss! Let's see how you'll survive your impending doom!"

Trevor crossed his arms and sneered, unfazed by these threats.

Though it was true that the actors' acting skills and popularity were important in making a movie, Trevor believed their personalities should matter more.

Working with talented but problematic actors would only disrupt the production, like what happened today.

"What are you still standing there for? I said leave!" Trevor said coldly at Tamara.

Tamara felt like her world collapsed at that moment.

A big star like Travis could just leave like that, but a small actress like her could not.

Acting roles were hard to come by for her. But when she actually had the chance, she blew it up.

Tamara's heart sank. She bit her lower lip, holding back the tears threatening to fall as remorse filled her heart.

She looked up and saw nothing but coldness and indifference in Trevor's eyes. His decision was final.

Knowing she had no choice, Tamara followed Travis outside with heavy and disheartened steps.
