

Chapter 1086 Return The Favors

Trevor breathed a sigh of relief as Xzavier and the man with the broken finger left.

He felt that he hadn't accumulated enough power yet to take revenge on Xzavier and fight people from that mysterious organization.

"Lloyd, are you okay?" Trevor asked as he helped Lloyd up.

Lloyd was a strong, muscled man. But under attack, he hadn't had the strength to fight back and had been kicked down before he could react.

Trevor didn't blame Lloyd. People of that mysterious organization were extremely powerful, after all. Every member had gone through cruel bouts of training.

"I'm fine," Lloyd said. He wrapped his arms around his stomach and coughed.

At this moment, a man with a neat beard walked into the room.

He frowned, saying, "Nyomi, what happened here? Why did I just see Xzavier leave angrily? He is the boss of Star Film and Television Company. You'll need his help if you want to rise in the entertainment circle!"

Neither Trevor nor Lloyd knew this man.

Nyomi lost her temper at the man's words.

"What are you talking about? Clive Ortiz, you are my agent! I pay you, not Xzavier! Besides, I have my own studio. I'm in a cooperative relationship with Star Film and Television Company. I'm not their employee!"

Clive stood there, stunned, his lips opening and closing. He didn't dare refute her but he still looked disapproving.

He turned to Trevor instead.

"You are Levi, aren't you? You've dared to offend Star Film and Television Company as soon as you came to Barlowtown. I think your company is close to bankruptcy. Humph! So it's you who ruined Nyomi's plan. I'm warning you. Nyomi is not someone you and your small company can work with. If you have any such intentions, I advise you to give up as soon as possible, in case you disgrace yourself!"

Trevor squinted at the man but said nothing.

He understood the kind of person that Clive was in just a few words.

Clive, Nyomi's agent, might not be a good person. He had probably been the one to instigate Xzavier to send her to the man with a broken finger.

Clive didn't care for Nyomi. All he was, was greedy for money.

"Clive Ortiz!" Nyomi gritted out, her eyes sharp and her face scarlet with anger. "You are fired!"

Clive stood there, shocked. "What? Nyomi, are you firing me? I'm doing this for your own good!"

Nyomi was expressionless as she said, "Don't make me repeat my words. Now, get out!"

Trevor burst into laughter.

It was obvious that this famous female star was quite insightful and decisive.

When Trevor's laughter subsided, he smiled and winked at Lloyd.

Lloyd knew what he meant. He might not be a match for the man with a broken finger, but it would be easy for him to take a powerless agent out of the room.

The room descended into silence.

Nyomi looked at Trevor, quiet for a moment before saying, "Are you Levi from Sky Film and Television Company? I've heard about you. Thank you for what you did today. I need to talk to you about something."

Trevor's eyebrows shot up. "Please go ahead."

Nyomi hesitated for a moment before saying, "To repay you, I want to work with your company. I admit that I also want to use our working relationship to avoid Xzavier's revenge."

Trevor was overjoyed.

He knew that Nyomi was a famous star. It was undoubtedly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for his company to cooperate with her.

"Of course! Welcome. Hoping we have a pleasant cooperation!" Trevor said, grinning.

"Aren't you afraid?" Nyomi asked as she shook hands with him.

Trevor said confidently, "Since you're daring enough to choose my company, I dare to accept the cooperation!"

The next day, when news of their cooperation spread, the entertainment circle erupted into an uproar yet again.

Xzavier was furious when he received the news. "You're courting death, Levi. This is the first time someone has dared poach someone from my company!"

Nyomi was one of the most famous stars of his company, but now Sky Film and Television Company took her away. How could Xzavier bear it?

Xzavier immediately called his secretary in and said angrily, "Contact all the well-known reporters and make them spread rumors on the Internet that Trevor and Nyomi are having an illicit love affair!"

Under Xzavier's supervision and thanks to his money, lots of rumors about Sky Film and Television Company suddenly appeared on the Internet.

Rumors about Trevor and Nyomi's illicit relationship were spreading faster than fire.

Some of the anonymous reporters were arrogant, even resorting to calling Trevor and Nyomi secretly to blackmail them.

"You must give me two hundred thousand dollars right now, or the rumors about your illicit relationship will never end!"