

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3241-Serenity carried the fruits into the kitchen to wash them.

After Jasmine asked Abby to sit down, she asked her, “Abby, would you drink tea or water?”

Abby already called her sister Jasmine familiarly, so she called Abby by her first name.

“Just give me a cup of warm water, please, Sister Jasmine. I drank a cup of coffee at Sister Seren’s place, and I don’t dare to drink tea again for fear that I won’t be able to sleep at night.”

Jasmine said nostalgically, “I haven’t had a cup of coffee for several months. I miss the days when I drank coffee once a day. I also can’t sleep after drinking too much. I usually just drink one cup when I get to the store in the morning, which can last me until the afternoon and will not affect my rest at night.”

She poured a glass of warm water for Abby.

Jasmine asked, “How many days do you plan to spend in Wiltspoon?”

Jasmine picked up the small book that she had not finished reading, folded a corner of the page she saw, closed the book, and continued reading when she was free.

Abby said, “I have to go back after playing for two days, and the company is also busy.”

Jasmine said, “It’s the end of the year, and everything is busy. Our bookstore can take a break next week and reopen after the winter vacation. It’s also a bit busy these days. Students need to buy their winter vacation homework.”

The school would also assign some homework and then let students go to the bookstore to buy winter vacation homework.

Some schools purchased and distributed them uniformly without requiring students to buy them themselves.

Jasmine said, "You are only busy for a few days, and the students also have holidays. It is still very relaxing."

Abby said, "After I return to Hiribaty, I will look around to see where it is suitable to open a bookstore. I will also open a bookstore. When I retire, I will live in the bookstore."

She also had some shops under her name. After renovating the largest room, she opened a bookstore where she could also rent books. Then she set up a small cafe in the shop. Customers who come in to read could spend some money to buy a cup of coffee and drink it. She felt that such a day was really leisurely and comfortable.

Jasmine smiled and said, "How old are you? You are already thinking about your life after retirement."

Abby also laughed.

Jasmine: "I'm lazy and like reading novels, so I opened this bookstore with Seren in partnership. Even if I invest in other projects, I just sit back and wait for dividends. I rarely take care of things. I'm too lazy."

Her family lived by collecting rent. She didn't want to help her family collect rent, so she opened a bookstore. Now she doesn't want to stay at home to raise her baby, so she comes back to look at the store.

Abby said, "Sister Jasmine, you're good like this. Mr. Bucham is capable and can afford to support you."

Jasmine said, "He can support me, but I still have to have my own income. We women, whether before or after marriage, must maintain financial independence and not become full-time wives easily."

Abby nodded in approval.

Serenity came out of the cleaned fruits. She placed the fruits on a large fruit plate, cut them into pieces, and put many small forks on them to eat the fruit pulp, which was convenient.

“Jasmine, eat some fruit. Abby bought it. It’s very fresh. Neither of us started eating it. We brought it all over to share with you.” Serenity placed the fruit plate on the cashier, then moved a chair and sat down next to Jasmine, reached out and patted Jasmine’s thigh, touched it twice more, and said with a smile, “Jasmine, your legs are becoming thicker, thicker thighs.”

“Abby, come and hug her thick thighs to see if I’m right. Her legs are really thicker than before.”

Abby also stood up and came around seriously. She actually hugged Jasmine’s thigh and said seriously, “It’s a thick thigh.”

Jasmine didn’t react at first, thinking that she had become fatter because she could eat. She looked down at Abby and hugged her thigh, saying, “Is there any? I don’t feel that my thighs have become thicker.”

She just felt like her belly was getting bigger.

She was pregnant.

Her belly was gradually swelling.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3242-Serenity and Abby burst out laughing.

Jasmine was stunned for a moment, then came to her senses and gave her friend a funny tap. “Serenity, you are teasing me.”

“Anyway, Abby hugged your thick thigh.”

Serenity smiled and picked up a piece of fruit pulp with her fork and fed it into Jasmine’s mouth.

Jasmine looked at Abby and said ambiguously, “Abby, you still need to hug my thigh. Hugging your thigh is enough.”

That is the future fourth young lady of the York family.

The York family has Abby’s backing. There is no need to hug anyone’s lap.

Serenity blinked at her, and Jasmine knew that things between Abby and Evan had changed. She quickly changed the subject, and if she had any questions, she had to wait until Abby left before asking her friends.

At 3:50 in the afternoon, Serenity was going to the kindergarten to pick up Sonny from kindergarten.

Abby did not follow Serenity to pick up the children. She chose to stay in the bookstore and chat with Jasmine. Jasmine loved reading novels, and she also asked Jasmine to introduce some novels to her.

Jasmine smiled and said, "Do you usually have time to read novels? You can read before going to bed. After reading for a while, you will feel sleepy and fall asleep easily. What kind of books do you like?"

After Abby was silent, she asked in a low voice, "Is there any novel about a woman chasing a man?"

Jasmine raised her eyebrows, guessing the reason for the unhappiness between her and Evan, and said, "Yes, yes, but most authors omit the details of women chasing men and often explain them in Braille. A woman chases a man, but if she can't catch him or they stay together reluctantly, they break up when the man comes back. After the breakup, the man discovered that he had fallen in love with her unknowingly, and then he chased his wife to the crematorium. Do you like to watch this type of thing?"

Abby was speechless for a moment, then asked, "Is there no female protagonist who pursues the male protagonist from beginning to end and only pursues the beautiful man until the end?"

After a pause, she added, "Forget it; I don't want to read this kind of thing. Please introduce me to a few books about great female protagonists. The ones where our female protagonists are all-powerful, the ones who really don't rely on male protagonists and make their way in the world on their own.

I don't want to read stories that pretend to be about strong women. In fact, when the heroine encounters any difficulties, she relies on the male protagonist or male supporting characters to help her solve them. I don't want to read this kind of pseudo-female story."

Jasmine thought for a while, got up and walked around the checkout counter, went to the bookshelf in the last row, and brought out a few ancient novels. She handed the ancient novels to Abby and said, "This set of novels is about a strong team, a strong man, and a strong woman.

You can take a look. I usually like to read novels about home fighting and farming. I'm not too interested in this kind of brain-burning Machiavellian writing."

Abby took the books, opened them, and looked at them, then closed them and said, "How much did it cost? I bought it. I bought it back and read a few pages before going to bed. It will help me sleep."

She didn't like reading novels.

People who don't like reading novels will easily feel sleepy when reading novels. Well, it is indeed good for sleep.

For those who like to watch, the more they watch, the more addictive they become. They don't want to sleep until they finish watching, which actually affects their sleep.

Jasmine: "It doesn't cost anything. I'll give it to you as a meeting gift. You and Serenity are familiar with each other. You are Serenity's friend and also my friend."

Abby was not polite to Jasmine, thanked her, and stuffed a few books into her bag.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3243-After Serenity received Sonny, she did not go to the York Corporation to disturb Zachary. Zachary was very busy today and did not even have time to eat with her.

She didn't want to disturb or distract him.

Duncan was also busy.

So, Serenity took Sonny back to the bookstore.

Abby was still in the bookstore when she saw Serenity coming in and holding Sonny. She smiled and waved to Sonny, "Sonny, come here, let me hug you."

Sonny still remembered her. After Serenity let go of his hand, he trotted up to Abby, gave a sweet cry, and was then hugged by Abby.

Sonny said hello to Jasmine again.

Jasmine touched his head and said to Serenity, "Has Sonny grown a little taller? I think he seems taller."

"He has grown taller and gained a few kilograms of weight. His uncle said that if he doesn't eat more, he can't beat them when he goes to play with his friends during the winter vacation."

Jasmine said with a smile, "That's right. Sonny, you have to eat more. When you grow taller and gain weight, you can't beat others, but you have to beat others."

Sonny said, "Titus is very strong."

He himself knew that Titus was better than him in many aspects. However, his uncle, Zachary, said that everyone has advantages and disadvantages, so he didn't need to compare with Titus. Comparing people to others would easily make people angry.

Why bother comparing yourself to others? Just be content with himself.

Be content and happy.

"Sonny, there are fruits and snacks. Do you want to eat some?" Abby asked him.

Sonny nodded. He pointed to the snacks with his little finger and said, "I want to eat snacks."

Abby gave him a snack, and he quietly ate the snack in Abby's arms.

"Sonny is really good."

Abby looked down at the little guy and said to Serenity, "I actually don't like children very much. I think they are annoying and always cry. Meeting Sonny last night changed some of my views on children."

Serenity: "Sonny will cry sometimes, but he is easy to coax. Once coaxed, he will stop crying. He will get a tissue to wipe his tears and nose. Sonny was influenced by me and became very fond of sweets. Now he is eating his favorite snacks, of course, peacefully."

Abby smiled. "It may be a child's nature to be naughty and prone to crying."

Serenity thought of Avah and said, "Do you know the Johnson family in Annenburg? Their Avah is very obedient and really easy to take care of. She doesn't cry much. She is only a few months old, and she wakes up on her own. Play, or make ahhh sounds to attract adults to hug her."

"Her twin brother, Enzo, loves to cry a lot. Jane said that Enzo is always crying, and Avah is just watching, as if she is watching her brother perform his crying skills. It's very funny."

After Jane became a mother, her circle of friends often shared every detail of the growth of her two children.

Serenity was good friends with her, and she could see her circle of friends. Although the two of them were in different places, Serenity was watching Avah grow up little by little.

As the little girl grew up, the more she looked like Ben, beautiful and cute.

Jane said that her daughter would even have a personality like her father in the future.

Jasmine touched her belly and said, "This baby in my belly is probably a naughty egg."

Serenity smiled. "I heard from Zachary that your husband used to be very out-of-the-box, but later became more stable."

Jasmine: "We won't know until the baby is born. I hope this baby in my belly will be as easy to carry as Sonny now."
