

Chapter 1050 Disguise And Leave

When Liam realized that Laura had misunderstood him, he hurriedly interrupted her.

Liam understood Laura's reaction. After all, she had lived on Genesis Island for a long time, and her family doted on her so much. So he was not surprised that she was a bit childish.

He could only shake his head helplessly, explaining, "I want to join the Saint Society not because I want to surrender to the enemy. Instead, I want to take this opportunity to let the two of us sneak in to avoid the pursuit of the two forces."

After a pause, he continued, "And maybe we can also take this opportunity to obtain the cultivation resources of the Saint Society. Then, we can take time to improve ourselves. I can only return to Genesis Island when I am strong enough to compete with the Lord of War God House for the position of leader. This is the only way I can save everyone."

Laura looked at Liam in confusion. She didn't understand how she and Liam could still join the Saint Society, given their current situation.

Liam knew what Laura was thinking. He smiled and directly showed her the disguise technique.

He took out a blank human skin mask from his pocket, drew on it for a while, and put it on his face.

The next moment, his face underwent a tremendous change.

Laura was so shocked that her eyes widened, and her mouth gaped open in incredulity.

Liam said, "We definitely can't sneak into the Saint Society with our own appearances. But if we use this disguise technique, I am confident we can succeed."

After witnessing Liam's superb disguise technique, Laura finally had the confidence. She now understood his plan.

So, she quickly nodded and asked him to disguise her.

Halfway through the disguise process, Laura said, "Liam, make me more beautiful."

Liam was so dumbfounded by her words that his movements momentarily stopped. He hadn't expected Laura to still care about her appearance right now.

But since she said so, he just nodded in agreement.

Liam made some adjustments to Laura's new face several times until she was satisfied.

He looked at her face, which had undergone a dramatic change, feeling a little resigned.

It seemed to him that she was still a bit inexperienced.

But he didn't say anything more. Actually, he was a little envious of her innocence. He thought it was also good to be carefree at times.

After Liam disguised Laura successfully, Laura stared at her new face in the mirror. It took her a while to get accustomed to her new face.

Suddenly, she turned to Liam and said, "Liam, our faces have really changed. But it won't be that easy to enter the Saint Society, right? After all, you have to be vouched for by someone from the Saint Society before you can be qualified to join. If we simply show up and ask to join the Saint Society, we will only arouse suspicion. The people of Saint Society are not fools. They will definitely pay more attention to us if we suddenly join them."

Liam couldn't help smiling when he heard this. He hadn't expected Laura to be keen on details.

However, since he had decided to join the Saint Society, it meant he had already had the safest plan.

He nodded slightly. "I also know about that. Well, I know someone who can loosely count as a friend. Let's go to her and ask her to help us."

The friend Liam was talking about was Maureen, one of the leaders of the Saint Society.

In this situation, he could only count on Maureen to help him.

So, Liam and Laura immediately left and headed for
