

Chapter 1068 Improvement

Three days later, at the foot of Mount Moria.

Liam stood enveloped in a radiant white aura, its brilliance engulfing the entire mountain in an ethereal light.

Above on the slopes, members of the Saint Society murmured among themselves, captivated by the dazzling display.

"This has to be the breakthrough of a sixth-stage Primogem Warrior, wielding a potent ability to conjure such fluctuations!"

"Who could it be? Perhaps Maureen has finally unlocked her potential?"

"No way. It must be Zoya. Her prowess has always hinted at the extraordinary!"

Speculation buzzed.

Meanwhile, high atop the peak, Mr. Jenkins, deep in meditation, felt the disturbance like a ripple across a tranquil pond, jolting him from his reverie.

With a swift motion, he rose from his position and vanished in a blur, reappearing at the mountain's base in an instant.

Three days later, at the foot of Mount Moria.

Liam stood enveloped in a radiant white aura, its brilliance engulfing the entire mountain in an ethereal light.

Above on the slopes, members of the Saint Society murmured among themselves, captivated by the dazzling display.

"This has to be the breakthrough of a sixth-stage Primogem Warrior, wielding a potent ability to conjure such fluctuations!"

"Who could it be? Perhaps Maureen has finally unlocked her potential?"

"No way. It must be Zoya. Her prowess has always hinted at the extraordinary!"

Speculation buzzed.

Meanwhile, high atop the peak, Mr. Jenkins, deep in meditation, felt the disturbance like a ripple across a tranquil pond, jolting him from his reverie.

With a swift motion, he rose from his position and vanished in a blur, reappearing at the mountain's base in an instant.

Swiftly, his hands danced in intricate patterns, summoning forth ethereal screens that cloaked Liam's luminous aura and the blinding brilliance it emitted.

a rare mastery of the light element! My young apprentice is truly a prodigious talent," he murmured to himself in amazement.

Little had Mr. Jenkins expected, as his words lingered in the air, a dense aura surged forth from Liam, a golden hue mingling with the pristine white glow.

Mr. Jenkins' eyes widened further, his surprise etching deeper into his lined face.

"A dual awakening? This is unprecedented!" he exclaimed under his breath. He glanced around, thankful for his earlier precaution.

"Had I not shielded him, the whole world would now know of his potential. In our circles, such a prodigy would surely draw the dark cloaks of assassins from rival factions." In awe, Mr. Jenkins couldn't help but marvel at the extraordinary talent displayed by Liam.

Staying by Liam's side, he served as a guardian, ensuring Liam's safety as Liam delved deeper into his meditation.

After what felt like an eternity, Liam finally experienced the breakthrough he had been striving for.

An exhilarating rush surged through him as he realized he had ascended to level-six two-star.

Not only had he reclaimed the strength that had been sapped by the Adamson, but he had also transcended further than ever before.

With a gradual blink, his eyes fluttered open and met with the reassuring presence of Mr. Jenkins, who had stood vigil by his side throughout. It dawned upon him that Mr. Jenkins must have helped him.

He expressed his gratitude in earnest.

Mr. Jenkins's smile was gentle. "No need for formalities between us. Why not test your newfound abilities now? With me here, you can experiment safely. Go on; unleash your full potential upon me!"

Never one to shy away from a challenge, Liam assumed a stance, ready to demonstrate his burgeoning powers.

The first special power he used was his earth elemental power.

A soft yellow aura enveloped Liam, and Mr. Jenkins instantly felt the weight settle upon his limbs.

"Keep going," Mr. Jenkins urged. "Push your earth elemental prowess to its peak!"

As Liam poured forth his strength, Mr. Jenkins marveled at the extent of Liam's earth element mastery. He said, "Impressive! You can magnify gravity up to threefold. Moreover, this ability will grow with your strength. Such potential at the onset is rare indeed!"

Liam then realized his earth element not only imposed gravity but also granted brief levitation— a great skill in combat.

Still, the core of his earth elemental power lay in defense. A Primogem Warrior attuned to the earth element could bolster their defense by thirty percent.

Chapter 1068 Improvement

+120 Points at most

Thinking of this, a smile played on Liam's lips.

Then, as if a new channel of understanding had opened within him, Liam's smile broadened with excitement. "Mr. Jenkins, there's a synergy between the earth element in my body and my life force. My defense—it's increased by at least fifty percent!"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.