

Chapter 1074 Decision

Liam held Laura's hand tightly, fearing she would be separated from him.

The moment he stepped into the gate of the hidden realm, he felt an intense tearing sensation across his body.

After a dizzying whirl, he entered the world of the hidden realm.

He looked around and noticed that the weeds in the realm had grown incredibly tall, reaching about half a meter.

As for the trees, they were even more massive. They were so tall that they almost blocked the sun.

Suddenly, Liam's attention was caught by a clump of weeds nearby. Then, he heard a rustling sound. The next moment, he spotted a three-eyed creature staring at him.

The creature must have sensed Liam's gaze. It quickly fled away.

Everyone else also noticed the creature.

"The realm is really special. I've never seen creatures like this before."

"That's right! And the weeds here are very tall. It means the vitality of this place is really strong."

"But what on Earth was that creature just now?"

The crowd discussed curiously. Liam was also a bit amazed. Fortunately, Carlden had briefed him before he had come here.

The creatures that existed in the hidden realm should not be called animals. They were called mythical beasts. Some of these mythical beasts might appear insignificant. But the truth was they possessed terrifyingly powerful energies in their bodies.

Therefore, Liam didn't underestimate that mythical beast that had just fled. Instead, he became more vigilant.

He hadn't expected to encounter a mythical beast just upon entering the hidden realm. This made him realize that the number of such creatures was beyond his imagination.

At this moment, Leif suddenly said, "Everyone, if you want to separate from the group and explore the realm alone, it's okay. You can do it now. Of course, you can also choose to stay. But I want to make one thing clear. If you decide to stay with the group, you must follow my commands in all subsequent activities. You can't just do things at will."

After a pause, he continued, "Moreover, I will allocate all the resources we obtained based on everyone's effort and strength. If anyone who chooses to stay disagrees with my rules, I will personally take matters into my own hands and eliminate them. Now, it's your turn to decide."

Everyone quickly made their decisions. They all opted to stay.

After all, they were in an unfamiliar and perilous environment. Leif was a tier-six Primogem Warrior. So, they had a higher chance of surviving if they stayed with Leif.

As for the chance to become stronger, which they had been dreaming of, they could work on it later as long as they were alive.

They understood that life was more important than strength.

Liam and Laura also chose to stay.

Liam decided to wait and see first.

He didn't forget that his current identity was Kolton, a mere level-five Primogem Warrior. If he left, he would definitely arouse suspicion.

Moreover, if he stayed with Leif and they encountered danger, Leif could deal with it.

If anything happened that Leif couldn't handle, he would step in then.

They were in a mysterious hidden realm, anyway. Those big shots of the Saint Society couldn't get in.

Liam glanced at Leif. He knew Leif had just had a breakthrough. But his breakthrough was so recent that he had not awakened any new powers yet.

Liam knew that if a Primogem Warrior wanted to awaken his power, he needed not only phenomenal artifacts but also extraordinary talent.

Obviously, Leif lacked both.

Leif's strength was not worth mentioning in front of Liam. Liam could defeat Leif with a single blow.

When Leif saw everyone choose to stay, he nodded with satisfaction.

Then, he pulled out several maps from his coat and handed them out. He announced, "Congratulations on making the right choice. Rest assured that our journey into this realm will be rewarding."
