

Chapter 1903 Seduce Her

Upon seeing that Brandon's calls were repeatedly going unanswered, Frank decided to call Janet himself.

When she answered, he handed the phone to Brandon, but Brandon signaled for him to speak to her instead, wearing a grim expression.

"Hello? Frank? What's up?" Janet's voice came through from the other end of the line.

Upon hearing her question, Frank chuckled awkwardly before asking with concern, "How are you feeling at home? Any discomfort? You're in the first trimester now, and your condition could be unstable. Try not to overexert yourself."

"I know. I'm fine. No issues so far," Janet replied.

"Okay..." Frank stalled, prolonging his response in a bid to buy some time. Brandon, however, remained silent with a sullen expression, so he continued, "Also, make sure to watch your diet, get enough sleep, and avoid catching a cold."

"Understood. Anything else?" Janet inquired.

While Frank spoke to her, he silently signaled to Brandon with his eyes desperately, as if he were saying, "Are you going to comfort your wife? If not, I'll hang up."

While Frank spoke to her, he silently signaled to Brandon with his eyes desperately, as if he were saying, "Are you going to comfort your wife? If not, I'll hang up."

Each time he was on the verge of ending the call, Brandon shot him a fierce glance.

Feeling increasingly uncomfortable, Frank struggled through a three-minute conversation with Janet. When he finally couldn't bear it any longer, he threw the phone into Brandon's hands and left the office.

Upon hearing the noise on the other end of the line, Janet sensed that Brandon might have taken the phone, but neither of them uttered a word.

After a minute of silence, she asked, "Anything else? If not, I'll hang up."

With a frown, Brandon responded immediately, "Don't hang up. I was wrong. You can punish me however you like, but please don't ignore me."

Upon hearing his swift apology, Janet let out an exasperated chuckle and replied sarcastically, "I have no idea what you're talking about. I just miss my parents and want to spend some time with them for a few days."

With that, she promptly hung up the phone, denying him the opportunity to respond.

When Brandon attempted to call again with Frank's phone, he found that it had also been blocked.

Taking a deep breath, Brandon turned around and walked out, tossing the phone to Frank, who had been standing outside the door.

After deftly catching the phone, Frank asked with concern, "How did it go? Did you two get into an argument?"

Upon noticing how dark Brandon's expression was, Frank realized that the apology hadn't gone well.

He then offered Brandon some advice, saying, "Bear in mind the fact that she's pregnant now. Pregnant women can't handle strong emotional fluctuations, especially those with poor health like Janet's. She needs to be taken care of with great care. Don't push things too hard. If you really upset her, you might end up regretting it."

With a tensely furrowed brow, Brandon replied, "I don't even have the opportunity to try to get her to forgive me. Why would I dare make her upset again? She even blocked your number just now, clearly letting me know that she doesn't want to see me. Do you have any ideas on how I can make amends besides sending her gifts?"

After scrutinizing Brandon's figure and facial features, Frank replied bluntly, "Seduce her."

Brandon's eyes lit up momentarily, but narrowed shortly after as he gazed at Frank with a hint of skepticism.

Just as Brandon considered that it was worth giving it a shot despite his initial reservations, Frank hastily backtracked, shaking his head and remarking, "Wait, scratch that. Pregnant women can't have sex. You're done for. Your good looks won't do you any good."
