

Even After Death Chapter 1645 by Olivia Fordham And Ethan Miller

Even After Death Chapter 1645 by Olivia Fordham And Ethan Miller-Olivia pulled Willow into her arms and said, "Baby, Mommy knows you are doing this for my own good, but no matter what happens, Mommy will not let you put yourself in danger."

Jacqueline was a ruthless person with a criminal record, and she had great hostility towards Olivia.

How could Olivia feel comfortable letting her daughter be a hostage?

Willow shook her head and tried her best to convince Olivia using her sign language: 'Mom, I'm not afraid'.

Olivia hugged her gently. "But I'm afraid, Willow. You are my incomparable and precious treasure that I risked my life for. I brought you into this world and will take care of you. No matter what happens to me in the future, I will not let you bear any consequences."

Ethan finally understood why the children were so lively, kind, and cute. It was because Olivia would never give up on them at any time, and her efforts also earned the children's love for her.

Love is a two-way journey.

Olivia comforted Willow and then looked at Jacqueline and said, "No one can be your hostage. The only concession I can make is that you decide the transaction location. Don't forget, you still have the Heart-Eating bug in your body."

Jacqueline said, "Olivia, what are you so proud of? I can feel the pain of gnawing at my heart. Do you think you can be okay? I want you to feel my pain."

"I have felt all kinds of pain. "Do you think I'd be afraid?" Olivia snorted coldly, showing a tough attitude that Jacqueline had never seen before. "Jacqueline, you should figure out who is in control of the initiative now. You can't act recklessly here. If you want to talk, I'll give you a chance. If you don't want to talk, then just bear with it."

After saying that, Olivia took Willow away without even looking at Jacqueline. Despite Jacqueline's infection with the Deathsting Bug, the individuals surrounding her refrained from taking hasty actions, apprehensive that they might inflict harm on Jacqueline and implicate Olivia. Despite their anger, they refrained from speaking, and instead, Olivia took the initiative to beat Jacqueline.

Ethan ordered, "Throw her into the room and watch her carefully. She can come out when I want to talk."

"yes."

Olivia hadn't been to the village for a long time. As if nothing had happened, she wandered around the village with Willow.

In the past, everyone had deep feelings for her, and Olivia provided a lot of assistance to everyone during the years she was here.

For example, developing water conservancy projects can help people solve irrigation problems.

However, few people had seen her true face before. Now that they saw her appearance, they all understood why Willow was so beautiful.

Olivia brought Ethan back to the cave, where they rekindled their love. At this time of year, the cave was full of exotic flowers and plants, and the air was filled with a faint fragrance.

Olivia: "It turns out this place is so beautiful."

Not only were there butterflies flying, but there were also a few deer playing by the water.

Olivia took off her dress and slowly soaked in the water. Her face was unprecedentedly calm, and she had no fear of the poisonous insects in her body at all.

The setting sun's light fell on her, making her look extremely sacred.

After a while, she opened her eyes and looked into Ethan's eyes.

Olivia: "Why are you looking at me like that?"

Ethan: "Liv, you have really changed."

Ethan didn't know how to describe Olivia at this moment.

She lost her childishness and became mature, steady, noble, and extraordinary.

Olivia hooked her finger at him, and Ethan leaned down. She took advantage of the situation and grabbed his tie, pulled his neck down, and raised her red lips to him.

Olivia said, "Take a break from your busy life and enjoy the simple pleasures of life. Don't worry about the future; just live in the present, and life won't be that hard."