

Chapter 39 The Truth

Seeing that Marco was fuming, Laura trembled and lowered her voice.

However, even so, she couldn't stop commenting about Loraine.

"Marco, how can you talk to me like that? That woman is a bitch. She played dirty tricks on us. She has even stolen our project. I merely sent a lawyer's letter. Be glad that I didn't call the police!"

Marco's face darkened. "I told you that I'd deal with this issue. Nobody is allowed to interfere in my business."

The ferocity of his gaze frightened Laura. She swallowed the rest of her words and didn't dare to utter a word.

Seeing that Laura finally shut up, Marco took his phone to call Loraine.

But when he dialed her number, the call didn't connect. It suddenly occurred to him that Loraine had blocked him. ②

Since he couldn't get in touch with her, he asked Carl to contact Universe Group.

"Send an e-mail to Universe Group right away and tell them that the lawyer's letter was a mistake. I know Loraine would never steal the documents. Bryant Group is fully responsible for this matter. After finding the truth, we will issue a statement of clarification to prove Loraine's innocence."

Carl's eyes widened in surprise when he heard that.

He couldn't help but wonder if Marco was afraid Universe Group would punish Loraine.

Why would Marco care about his ex-wife all of a sudden?

A thousand questions swarmed in Carl's mind, but he didn't dare question Marco. Hence, he executed the orders right away.

However, there was no reply after Carl sent the mail.

Universe Group ignored them. They issued an official indictment in the name of the company and sued Marco's mother, Laura Bryant, for spreading rumors and damaging Loraine and Universe Group's reputation. ○

Laura was so angry that she forgot Marco's warning and asked him for an explanation.

"Marco, did you see that Loraine has sued me after stealing our things? You must not spare that shameless bitch!"

Marco's face turned livid. "Mom, Universe Group has found evidence. Loraine is innocent."

"How is that possible?"

Laura's brows furrowed when she found pictures and surveillance footage attached to the indictment of Universe Group.

Firstly, they exhibited a comparison of recent data and reports in Universe Group, and another company called Sola Group.

Bryant Group's report was entirely different from Universe

Group's. However, the data released by Bryant Group and Sola Group were alike. It was obvious they had used the same information and data.

"What happened?"

Laura couldn't understand what was going on. Did Sola Group steal the documents?

"I see. Perhaps Loraine was afraid Universe Group would find out the truth and sold the documents to Sola Group!"

As Laura spoke, she clicked on the surveillance footage released by Universe Group.

She saw a woman sneaking in and out of Sola Group with a folder.

However, it was not Loraine but Marina, Marco's sister and Laura's daughter.

The evidence brought the truth to light.

But Laura still chose not to believe it. "Marina would never do that. Loraine must have colluded with Universe Group and Sola Group to slander Marina!"

Marco was furious. "Bring Marina here!" he ordered the bodyguards.

Soon, the guards brought Marina back.

"Marco, what's up?" she asked, not having the slightest clue that her actions were exposed now. "I have an appointment at the beauty salon. I'm running late."

Marco glared at Marina. "You know what you have done!"

A trace of guilt flashed in Marina's eyes, but she argued, "What have I done, Marco? Why are you always doubting me? I've been behaving myself lately."

"You are still lying! I already froze your cards. How did you get the money for the beauty salon? Did you steal the documents in my study and sell them for money?"

The blood on Marina's face drained in an instant. "Of course not!"

Marco asked the bodyguards to show the footage to Marina.

"Then, what were you doing in Sola Group?"

Sweat beaded Marina's forehead. She was flustered. "... I have a friend in Sola Group. I just went there to see her..."

"Oh really? You went there with the documents to see your friend?"

Marco stared at Marina. The intensity of his gaze frightened Marina.

"Stop being mean, Marco!" Laura stood protectively in front of her daughter. "Marina is your sister. Why would she do such a thing? You'd rather trust an outsider rather than your family?"

Marina lowered her head guiltily, not daring to look at Marco.

Marco's face darkened as he saw Marina avoid his gaze.

He waved his hand, and the bodyguards took Marina's phone, unlocked it, and handed it to Marco.

"Marco, what are you doing?" Marina bellowed.

"I knew it!" Marco waved the phone at them. "How did you get so much money? Explain this to me, Marina! Don't you dare say that your friend gave it to you! I have many ways to find out who transferred the money to you."

Seeing that she couldn't hide the truth anymore, Marina exploded with rage.

"Yes! It was me! I sold the documents to Sola Group. So what? Marco! If you didn't freeze my cards for that bitch and made me a laughing stock, I wouldn't have sold the documents!"
