

Chapter 87 Keely's Lie

Keely received several comments after she posted it.

Marina and Laura conveyed their best wishes and gave her a like.

Slater also joined them.

His comment read, "Marco, you start ignoring your friend the minute you have a girlfriend. I'm admitted to the same hospital. But you didn't bother to see me. You just accompany your girlfriend."

Keely immediately replied with a blushing emoji and replied, "Don't be angry, Slater. Marco is just worried about me."

Slater, lying in another ward, got excited when he saw the reply. He sprang up from the bed.

He knew Marco still loved Keely. He would never fall in love with a woman like Loraine.

Slater refreshed the page. A new comment popped up on his screen. ²

Jimmie asked, "Can one be in two places at the same time? Marco is drinking with me now." ¹

Marco was drinking with Jimmie? Wasn't he accompanying Keely?

Slater was taken aback. Slater immediately sent a message to Jimmie, asking for confirmation.

"Jimmie, don't lie to me. Is Marco really drinking with you?"

Jimmie sent a picture of Marco holding a glass of wine.

"He's right next to me. How can it be fake?"

Slater was shocked. Marco wasn't accompanying Keely.

"No way. Keely is injured and hospitalized. If Marco isn't with her, what about her? How will she manage?"

Jimmy replied, "Slater, use your brain before defending Keely. Did you set Loraine up because Keely asked you to do it? You tried so hard to help her. But did Keely care about you after you got hospitalized?"

Slater could sense Jimmie's anger through his words.

He couldn't help but wonder if Keely was lying. Slater quickly switched to Keely's post and read it again.

He couldn't understand why Keely was pretending to be with Marco when he was with Jimmy.

However, just as he tried to comment again, Keely deleted the post.

Slater stared at the blank screen. For the first time, Slater felt Keely's words weren't credible.

Meanwhile, Loraine returned to her home.

As soon as she refreshed and rested on the bed, she received a series of messages from Jennie.

"Lorrie! Big news! I just found an amazing piece of gossip. That bitch, Keely, posted that she was injured and Marco accompanied her. Guess what? "

"What happened?" Loraine was not that interested.

"Marco was not there. Keely is ashamed of her lie being exposed." Jennie couldn't help but laugh.

Loraine frowned in confusion. "Marco didn't accompany Keely?"

She just saw the two looking at each other with affection at the hospital gate. Loraine wondered if Marco left after that.

"Wait a second, Jennie. How do you know that?"

She had blocked Marco and all the people close to him, so she couldn't see Keely's post.

Loraine wondered how Jennie saw it.

Jennie paused and coughed awkwardly. "I added Jimmie to my list during the auction last time. He shared the screenshots with me."

Loraine was stunned.

Jimmie? Why would he contact Jennie in private?

She felt something was going on between them.

Jimmie's handsome face flashed in her mind.

During her three years of marriage with Marco, she never had the chance to connect with his friends. Therefore, she didn't know much about Jimmie other than the fact that he was a famous lawyer and Marco's good friend.

But every time she met Jimmie's shrewd eyes, Loraine felt the man was a cunning fox who could read her mind.

"You've got to be careful, Jennie. Jimmie is a cunning man. Don't let him deceive you." Loraine tried her best to persuade Jennie.

However, Jennie didn't care. "Lorrie, you're overthinking. I wanted to help you get information about Marco, so I added Jimmie to my list." ①

Loraine didn't seem pleased. "Jennie, you don't have to do that. I have divorced Marco. I don't care about him or what he is up to."

"You are right! He should fuck off!" Jennie agreed. "Lorrie, I'm curious. Are you single now? Are you interested in men? Who do you like more? Marco, Cayson, or Grady?"

Lorraine rubbed her forehead helplessly.

"Stop gossiping! The people you mentioned are my ex-husband, a friend, and a new friend. I just want to run my business now and am in no mood to think about love."

After being in a toxic relationship for three years, Lorraine shielded herself from men and relationships.

Sensing the determination in Lorraine's words, Jennie knew Marco had broken her friend's heart.

She made up her mind to teach him a lesson.

Marco had to pay the price for hurting her friend.

The first step was to start with his good friend, Jimmie!
