Chapter 904

904 THE PEOPLE FROM THE BLACK MARKET

"Stop the carriage!" Cane growled and thecarriage stopped immediately.

to witness her in such condition, but she still couldn't get used to it.

Second later, Iris got off the carriage with Cane's help, as she vomited under the nearby tree. "You don't need to look..." Iris wasembarrassed and even though this was not the first time for Cane

However, like always, Cane didn't budge. It didn't bother him at all. He had seen a lot worst than this. More so, it was his pregnant mate, the woman who carried his children, no matter what she did, it would never bother him. This was the second time for Cane to ask for the carriage to stop, because Iris was having motion sickness and she kept vomiting. Right now, their carriage was the last, even though the shifters brought up the rear, but it was very obvious their carriage was so behind.

"You don't need to be sorry," Cane replieddarkly. He was worried and anxious with Iris's condition.

"I am sorry," Iris said weakly after sheemptied her stomach.

The pregnancy started to get hard on her, especially when they had to keep moving. Meanwhile, the other warriors around the luna and the alpha were having a doubt in their mind to see this. They stared at the luna intently. "Alpha, Luna, should I ask for Grace to

"Cane!" Iris wanted to refuse, but Cane toldher not to say anything.

"I will handle the rest, you focus on gettingbetter," he said firmly. If he used this tone, no amount of persuasion would work, thus Iris chose not to argue, not to mention she was still feeling unwell.

"I want to walk, I think it will help." Iris brushed her hair from her face. As if understood what Iris wanted, Lil Thing came to her, the li zard was on its head. The two creatures seemingly got along well, despite their 'rough' first meeting almost two years ago.

At this point, they really fell behind, but there was nothing to be worried about, the alpha was here and their personal warriors, added to more warriors that surrounded them also the fierce lazy bear,

"Feeling better?" Cane asked. He caressedher cheek, as she leaned against him. He felt bad to take her in this journey."Lou can take you, Hanna and Amee to Crystal Moon pack. He can stay there with you." Cane had been weighing this idea ever since they left Diandem pack.

Lou would have jumped to this opportunity if he heard what Cane said. Spending time with Iris was his goal, but unfortunately, the merchant was ahead of them, he had to join the merchant group in

"And risk the opportunity for Rei to whiskme away?" Iris didn't like to use this as her trump card, but she didn't like Cane's idea at all. This was the only way for her to stop Cane.

Cane was speechless."I don't ask you to leave because you are useless, Iris." "Whatever it is, I am not going anywhere. Ifyou are here, I will be here too," Iris said stubbornly.

Not long after, Grace came with Pax, but along with her was Rei. He smiled brilliantly at Iris. His Amee looked apologetic. She wanted to explain, but Cane gestured for her to leave. The alpha could guess more or less what had happened. This man must have allowed Grace to leave her confinement only if he came along too.

behind. The alpha slammed the door behind him and let the two women inside, while he stood in front of the carriage door, staring straight at Rei. His eyes full with distrust and disgust. "You don't need to be very hostile with me,alpha. We are on the same side and have the same goal."

"And what happened after?" Cane narrowedhis eyes. An ally today could be an enemy tomorrow. It

Cane didn't pay attention to him, as he ushered Iris into their carriage again and Grace followed

That was the only conversation they had until Grace came out half an hour later. She only told the alpha that the luna was eating something bad, which caused her stomach pain. And after that, Grace left again with Rei.
