

Chapter 954

954 THE FINAL BATTLE (20)

"Na... my Na..." Decratic sang her name."Iris...Iris...whoever you are, you are minenow."He caressed her cheek. The sight of her stomach irked him, but he only needed a few more weeks to get rid of those unpleasant things. "We are together now finally."

Decratic caressed her cheeks and watched her blue eyes turned dark, he kissed her lips and traced her jawline, down to her neck, where he could see Cane's mark on her skin.

There was a malice that flickered in his red eyes when he saw that. Decratic then put his hand behind her head and his other hand on her waist to steady her before he sunk his teeth on her mark, which made Iris wailed in pain.

The sky turned dark when the storm came, thunder and lightening split the sky. A very bad feeling lingered in the air, which made anyone nearby felt restless.

Meanwhile, Iris was in so much pain, as Decratic got rid of Cane's mark on her neck. The process was very painful, it was very vicious. The evil creature tastes her blood and he sunk his teeth deeper, held her body steadily when she retaliated.www.NoVetwoRM.com

The more pain Iris felt, the more nature went berserk. The ground rattled, the red smoke from the gates of hell became thicker, it spread far, poisoning anything in its wake. Dead monsters came to live and the new one emerged from there.

On the other hand, fighting the mind controller had dwindled the warriors in number, though they could handle them, but the number of the fallen warriors was alarming.

Right now, the shield around the palace had been broken and the spread of the poisonous miasma made all of them were cornered to move toward the palace, but at the same time, they were going closer toward Decratic. They didn't know what kind of trick he had under his sleeves, the moment he saw them were being stuck between the poisonous miasma and him.

"Come here, come here!" Letto instructedthem to follow him, he guided the little girls away from Iris and Decratic, as he watched how prince Kellan's body started to heal after such cruel torment that the luna did to him.

He shuddered.

Following Dexter for ages made Letto understood that black magic was a great deal, but he didn't realize it until now how strong black magic was actually.

"But, the luna..." Annie stopped, she lookedover her shoulder and watched Iris was in Decratic's arms. The man hugged her tightly, while the luna screamed in so much agony.

"It's okay. She will be fine," Letto said tosoothe her worry, though he himself didn't know what would happen to Iris.www.NoVetwoRM.com

However, right now he needed to get them to a safety place, lest they accidentally stuck in this chaos.

Annie and the rest of the children followed Letto. He took them to the safety place near prince Alan's quarter, while the other guards and servants had runaway, they tried to escape during this catastrophe. With the shield finally broke down, they could go out of the capital city now.

"Hold each other hand tightly!" Letto saidwww.NoVetwoRM.com and all the girls listened to the instruction.www.NoVetwoRM.com

Letto wanted to look for his master, but he knew that Dexter would be in the front line, which meant he couldn't bring these girls with him, because it would be very dangerous. His plan was to look for a safety place for them before he searched for his master.

Above them, the sky turned very dark and rain started pouring down. This was the black rain. The situation was almost like months ago, when the sky had turned very dark and black rain was pouring down, but this time, storm threatened to blow them away.

And amidst this harsh howling wind, you could hear Iris's scream, wailing in pain, as the mate bond was threatening to snap. This was not the first time their bond was being broken, but this time, Decratic determined to make it permanent.

Something that they couldn't fix anymore.

At the same time, the lycan could feel it, so did Cane. The cursed creature's roar thundered, as he dashed toward the two of them.

The roof of the bedroom had gone and the walls had been torn down, which showed him what Decratic was doing to his mate.

The holler from the lycan split the sky, as the black wisp from him emerged like black cloud, like a massive shadow that would blind your sight.

Everyone was terrified to see this, even the warriors stopped to watch what the lycan was doing and how much power that he had.

However, they didn't have time to be spectators, because the ground started shaking and shattering. Some of the warriors fell into the deep abyss when they didn't expect it, while the other immediately snapped from their fascination, sensed the danger and immediately tried to save themselves.

The situation became harder when the red smoke of poisonous miasma spread widely and rendered them unable to move, so they couldn't avoid the fissures on the ground and fell to their death.

"Damn it! As if we need more trouble thanthis!" Lou cursed under his breath, as he tried to save himself, Lil Thing rushed beside him and the bear nudged him to climb on its back.

However, the red smoke didn't only appear in the capital city, it spread through the air so fast, even the rain couldn't prevent it, as it reached the nearby villages and killed a lot of people there.

In no time, it reached Celestial Moon pack, Red Claw pack and then Golden Light pack, where Aliana, Abby and the rest chose to stay.

"The smoke is moving..." Joel noticed itwhen he came for Aliana like usual. She also noticed that."We need to go back and inform the other about it."

With that, the two of them shifted into their beast and immediately rushed back to the pack. They had to prepare for the worst.
