

Chapter 756

756 BROKEN SWORD

"I have warned you, Cane," Alpha Nolan said. He was so heartless to ruin his own daughter's grave, but then you couldn't expect less than this from him.

No, actually he didn't even care about Leane, it was only Aria, who noticed her former missy's grave. But even her, was not sentiment enough to stop what they were going to do.

"Give me back my son." Alpha Nolan was still adamant with the same old song. He wanted Lando and because Dexter couldn't be found, Decratic was too powerful for him to make any demand and lady Cyan didn't care about his predicament, he could only try to save his son on his own way. "If only you give me back my son, this will not happen."

Cane's expression was still, his iciness couldn't even melt by the flames that surrounded them. His eyes fixed at the rambles of the rock that previously was the entrance to her family burial ground.

The remains and the memorial of his family was there. His daughter...

The last time he was here was when he buried his daughter with Iris, but now, he couldn't even come to visit anymore, as they destroyed this place.

The fuck with all of this battle!

Cane's eyes flickered into red color.

All of them must die for doing this to his daughter!

Black wisp emanated from his body.

He was going to rip them apart!

The alpha rarely showed his emotions, but this time, his fury was written all over his face and body without restraint!

And with that, Cane lunged forward and shifted into his black beast. His red eyes flickered back to golden, but black wisp still surrounded him. It floated in the air ominously, as if this thing had mind on its own, as it started to attack all the warriors there, while the alpha himself charged forward to release his wrath on alpha Nolan.

Jace and the other warriors that came with Cane were stunned, but when the alpha made his move, they took that as a sign for them to attack. all of them immediately shifted into their beasts smoothly and assisted their alpha.

Just like how they predicted. It was not easy to kill all the warriors that alpha Nolan brought with him, their number was not many, but they were so hard to be killed. They couldn't feel any pain, even when Jace's beast bit down their hindlegs, they still could move! This was the power of the Black Magic that Decratic had.

Meanwhile, Aria was pushed to the rear line because she couldn't shift into her beast, neither she could fight with magic, since she was not a magic user, while alpha Nolan did the same thing. He feared the enraged of the black beast.

Cane's wrath was beyond words, he looked even scariest than the flames that surrounded them right now, in which spread so fast, despite the cold temperature and the snow that started to fall from the sky, yet they melted before it could pile up on the ground of this forest.

Black wisp in the shape of tendrils killed a lot of warriors, as the black beast charged forward. His aim was alpha Nolan. He must die!

"Cane! Stop this!" Aria cried. "You have been blinded! You will put our pack into danger with your action!" Aria screamed from behind the warriors. She was scared witless to see how the black beast made his way toward her and she was sure, it was only a matter of second before the crazy beast reached her and killed her right away without listening to her explanation. "Please! Don't do this! You can't do this!"

Meanwhile, beside Aria, alpha Nolan frowned at the crazy woman. "What are you blabbering about? Are you very delusional to think he will actually listen to you?" alpha Nolan knew this former maid of his daughter was not really sharp, but she was also delusional.

"We need to go from here," Redmond said, as he stood behind alpha Nolan to inform them it was the best time to retreat while they still had a chance. "Let's go! Quick!"

However, the tendril of the black wisp managed to pierce through two warriors that protected them, it stabbed them in the chest, but still lengthened to reach alpha Nolan.

Without a second thought, alpha Nolan grabbed Aria and put her in front of him to shield him from being stabbed.

Aria, who didn't expect that only felt something sharp pierced through her heart and when she looked down, it was the tendrils of the black wisp.

"Al-alpha Nolan... you...!" Aria gasped to breathe, it looked terrifying when this object drilled through her body and yet, she still couldn't die!

On the other hand, alpha Nolan fell on his butt and then started crawling back to avoid the attack of the black wisp.

After stabbed three people, the speed of the tendrils slowed down, which gave alpha Nolan a chance to escape the situation with the help of Redmond. They needed to return to their warriors.

Fire everywhere and it started to lick their clothes and make the temperature became rather hot. The fire didn't stop and if this kept happening, probably the whole mountain would be burned to the ground.

"Move!" Redmond barked at alpha Nolan, he glanced at Aria, whose still wore a shocking expression, staring at the tendrils on her chest. He narrowed his eyes and then left.

Meanwhile, Aria was still in denial to see what actually happened to her, what Cane had done to hurt her again. This was not the first time, he killed her, but why she persisted that man still had some feeling to spare for her? Only to find out her hope was being shattered all over again.

The hole in her chest widened, she could feel it that the tendrils were going to cut her body into half, but then she wouldn't die, because Dexter had done something to her, which prevented her from it.

But then, a second later, when Aria thought she would end up in a miserable state, she closed her eyes tightly and at the same time a portal appeared in front of her and Dexter's furious eyes landed on the tendrils that hurt Aria, he stretched out his hand, did something that made the tendrils released her body.

Black liquid poured out from the hole in her chest, as her body leaned forward and Dexter caught her.

"Aria," Dexter called her, his voice was cold and dark, as he could feel she was trembling in pain. She was able to feel the pain and he hated to see her like this.

Dexter lifted his head to face the black beast, anger laced in his eyes, but the enraged beast met his anger with his own wrath.

This was the second time for them to meet and like their previous encounter, Dexter put shield around him to protect himself and Aria from the beast's assault.

"Cane," Dexter called his name derisively. He flicked his finger and the fire around them flared up, just like the tendrils, the fire seemed to have its own mind, as it attacked Cane and his other warriors.

Jace and the warriors were having a hard time to dodge it, while fighting their opponent, therefore five of the warriors that came to them were burned to death, unable to dodge the flames, while three were killed by their enemies before those mutants were killed by Jace and Dean.

The other shifters, who had not yet learned about the fact Cane was the lycan wondered how he was able to control the black wisp, this was a magic! And as a shifter, he shouldn't have been able to do so.

With the flames and the black wisp tangled together, it was hard to tell, who had gotten the upper hand, until they heard cracking sound and then the protection around Dexter were shattered into pieces. WWW.NOVELWORM.COM

Right at that time, they caught another familiar scent only to see Lou was making slashing movement, in which broke the shield of protection that Dexter had created.

Everyone was shocked, especially when they saw who was coming with Lou. It was their luna!

Iris immediately got the horseback and rushed toward the black beast, but her eyes fixed on rubbles of the cave. The burial ground was no more. Her little one was buried there forever and she wouldn't even be able to visit her anymore.

Something squeezed her heart so bad, she fell to the ground. She didn't cry, but her whole body was trembling, while her eyes were bloodshot red.

From afar, they could hear loud footsteps, it seemed Alpha Nolan and Redmond managed to call for reinforcement.

It didn't take long before thirty warriors surrounded them, as they emerged from the flames, the beasts snarled viciously.

However, Iris couldn't hear anything, did she lose her ability to hear again? Or maybe her surrounded simply fading away, as she was in so much pain, it numbed her.

She didn't know which one was true, but all she could feel was the fury in her heart gnawed on her. She could feel all the beast spirit around her, the beast spirit that had tainted by black magic.

And then more beasts came.

The Howling Wolf pack's warriors came to Iris and circled her protectively, while the black wisp moved wildly, ready to wipe them all.

As the golden eyes of the beast turned red, Iris's blue eyes turned darker and another sword was broken...
