

An Understated Dominance Chapter 2445

Chapter 2445

Watching Father Adam, also known as Angel Dust, kill people mercilessly before him, Tyson couldn't help but feel a chill of fear.

Could it be that even powerful figures like Black Kong and Bill Wolf are wary of him? There must be a reason for that.

Black Kong and Bill Wolf were already considered monsters, but Father Adam, known as Angel Dust, was a monster among monsters.

With someone like him in action, the warriors of Dragonmarsh were facing an unprecedented catastrophe.

"Tyson, how do you feel about these three helpers?" Bear King Bailey asked with a smile.

"More than satisfied. With these three on our side, we're bound to win the championship!" Tyson replied enthusiastically.

Previously, he had lacked confidence because he knew the young talents in Dragonmarsh were not to be underestimated.

But now, he felt assured.

This time, not only the Pantheon but also the Demon Feast Alliance and the Holy See had sent their strongest.

In other words, they had united forces from multiple countries to suppress Dragonmarsh.

This made their victory almost certain.

"Great! Your words put my mind at ease," Bear King Bailey nodded with satisfaction.

“I’ll leave the competition to you. As for our secret plan, we can’t afford any mistakes. Make sure the people below stay sharp and avoid trouble for the next two days. When the time is right, we will launch a large-scale attack.”

“Understood!” Tyson nodded firmly.

“Now, go about your tasks and don’t disturb me while I eat,” Bear King Bailey waved them off and then continued to eat voraciously.

In the end, he devoured the entire table of meat.

...

Sacred Wyrms Summit, Zhugy Building.

As the largest restaurant within a hundred miles, Zhugy Building was bustling with activity.

Elites from all major sects stayed here, including many contestants who had advanced to the top 32.

Unlike modern hotels, Zhugy Building was an antique structure with three floors and a large area.

Opposite the entrance, a stage featured a classic Peking opera performance.

The actors on stage performed diligently, and the audience below, eating and drinking, cheered and applauded continuously.

This scene was unique to Sacred Wyrms Summit.

“Hey! Ladies and gentlemen! Please come in!”

At this moment, Dustin and a group from the Celestial Alliance walked in.

When the waiter at the door saw them, he immediately greeted them warmly and led them to the second floor.
